Business Plan Basics Series

Monday, October 7, 14, 21, 28, 4, 11 @7:30-10:30am

Learn basic tools and research for writing a business plan.

Greetings from Impact Beaverton!

Impact Beaverton and our wonderful partners would like to thank you for your engagement and commitment to learning! As business owners, we must continually seek out opportunities to improve our business and ourselves. By attending these workshops, you are certainly headed in the right direction. Thanks to our sponsors at the City and Chamber, we have been able to extend the series to six days so you can get the most for your Business Planning.

Last week we had a great time catching up on our marketing and what a joy to see everyone excited to learn about credit building with Alex Shokrian from Changing Times Financial Services, LLC. He truly is a consumer advocate looking out for you and helping you navigate through the many systems, so you can make the best decisions as a consumer.

This week concludes the last series until our next in 2020. As promised, we will dedicate an entire morning to help you prepare for filling your business taxes. We are delighted David Wilcox and his expertise to lead us in this most important venture. No matter what record keeping system you have, make sure to bring it. Our goal is to help you set up a system that works for you-this may mean transition from a shoe box to a cash flow sheet. No matter what stage you're in, we are certain you will make progress!

This week's homework Please review your assignments and notes and stay current-always learning!

Business Plan progress So far, we have covered the most common challenging parts writing a business plan. Topics include market research, competition analysis, legalities, and accounting. We encourage you to refer to your template and assignment sheet and ask us questions so you can continue to make progress.

Networking opportunities What a great value! Every gathering is an opportunity to teach others about your business. When you practice your elevator pitch, you build confidence and that's just wonderful! Don't forget your business cards wherever you go-there's always an opportunity to meet a potential customer or partner who can help you achieve your business goals. Check out our calendar for other classes and upcoming networking events for business owners like you.

We are here for you so don't forget we have office hours on Friday afternoon and Tuesday mornings so take advantage of the opportunity to meet 1:1.

Your participation is important so please arrive 5 minutes early if you can. We will have coffee and breakfast ready for you and plan to start promptly by 7:45am. You won't want to miss a minute of the action! We will do our best to stay on schedule and make sure we take breaks at 8:30 and 9:30am but please don't hesitate to take care of your needs, when you need.

Of course, we are always excited to learn ways to improve your learning experience, so we value your feedback and encourage you to send us an email or write us a review- We most appreciate it!

Sincerely,

Emma Clark
